read the following letter:

Dear Miss Thornton—This is but a little token of our appreciation of your admirable efforts for 'The Evening World' Sick Bables' Fund. In sending it to you, we only hope you will wear it every day in the year, in fond remembrance of your engagement at Terrace Garden and the noble ends you there accomplished for the little sick ones. That you may ever enjoy the success you so well deserve, and the happiness which the prayers of the suffering bables must always bring; and that you may receive many other medals for your kindly interest in such a sacred cause, are the best wishes of the Old Times Whiskey Company. Very truly yours, Miss Bonnie Thornton,

Miss Bonnic Thernton.

Terace Garden Music Hall.

A great burst of applause came from the audience at every mention of "The Evening World's" Fund, and during the neat cpeech made by Stage Manager Posner he was interrupted by the enthusiasm of the audience half a dozen times. Bonnie was delighted. She said the cutest things imaginable to the audience, paid pretty compliments to everybody, and wound up by saying "God bless The Evening World," and such readers of it as Nesser & Hoexter, of the Old Times Whiskey Company."

Their present, she said, was a tribute also to "The Evening World," and she was sure the paper appreciated it.

Manager Michael Heumann did not have much to say, but he felt just as delighted over the whole affair as Bonnie Lerself, and forgot not to drop something for the bables on the stage, as he has done every evening.
